The Golden Spiders - Rex Stout 2010-06-02

Nero Wolfe was almost as famous for his wealthy clients and extravagant fees as for his genius at detection. So why has he accepted a case for $4.30? And why have the last two people to hire him been ruthlessly murdered? Wolfe suspects the answers may lie in the story of a twelve-year-old boy who turns up at the door of his West Thirty-fifth Street brownstone. In short order, Wolfe finds himself confronted by one of his most perplexing and pressing cases, involving a curious set of clues: a gray Cadillac, a mysterious woman, and a pair of earrings shaped like spiders dipped in gold. The case is all boiling down to a strange taste of greed—and a grumpy gourmand's unappeasable appetite for truth. Introduction by Linda Barnes "It is always a treat to read a Nero Wolfe mystery. The man has entered our folklore."—The New York Times Book Review A grand master of the form, Rex Stout is one of America's greatest mystery writers, and his literary creation Nero Wolfe is one of the greatest fictional detectives of all time. Together, Stout and Wolfe have entertained—and puzzled—millions of mystery fans around the world. Now, with his perambulatory man-about-town, Archie Goodwin, the arrogant, gourmandizing, sedentary sleuth is back in the original seventy-three cases of crime and detection written by the inimitable master himself, Rex Stout.

Die globale Metakrise aus dem Blickwinkel der Chemie - Volker Wiskamp 2021-03-18

Die Welt ist in einer Metakrise, und Chemie ist einfach alles. Diese beiden Aussagen verbindet der Autor, denn er ist der Meinung, dass die Chemie die Basiswissenschaft ist, von der ausgehend man zunächst die Materie, dann das Leben und schließlich die ganze Welt in ihrer Komplexität und ihrer vielfältigen Bedrohung durch Überbevölkerung, Ressourcenknappheit, Energieverschwendung, Umweltverschmutzung, Pandemien, Krieg, Migration, Artensterben und Klimawandel verstehen kann. Die Schwerpunkte sind dabei unterschiedlich. Mal stehen historische, wirtschaftliche und philosophisch-ethische Aspekte im Vordergrund, mal wird ein Ernährungsstil-Praktikum durchgeführt, mal werden Klassiker der Öko-Literatur sowie aktuelle populärwissenschaftliche Bücher, Biografien, Romane, Dokumentar- oder Spielfilme besprochen bzw. rezensiert. Allen Seminaren und Projekten ist gemeinsam, dass aus dem Blickwinkel der Chemie die Welt in ihrer ökologische Bedrohung beleuchtet wird.

An Exclusive Love - Johanna Adorjan 2011-01-11

Two people who have grown old together decide to take their own lives. He is terminally ill; she doesn't want to be without him. One Sunday in autumn 1991, they carry out their plan. Vera and István go to their deaths holding hands. It is the logical end of a love that shut out the entire rest of the world, even their own children. They used the formal "Sie" form of address for each other throughout their whole lives together, chain-smoked and were incredibly good-looking. They also had a past they did not speak about — a past they did not want to remember. As Hungarian Jews, they had survived the Holocaust, had become Communists and during the uprising in Budapest in 1956 had fled the country. They started a new life in Denmark and — so it seemed — never looked back. Sixteen years after her grandparents' deaths, Johanna Adorján ignored the family rule of "That's something we don't talk about." She set out to look for the blind spots in the lives of her grandparents and in the process found out things that have more to do with herself than she had expected. Against the backdrop of the disasters of twentieth-century European history, she brings Vera and István back to life — a fascinating couple, unconventionally elegant, often going against the grain.

Zwischen Bullerbü und Tierfabrik - Andreas Möller 2018-09-24

»Ich glaube, es ist Zeit für einen ›dritten Weg‹ zwischen Hardcore-Landwirtschaft und Bullerbü-Idylle.« (Andreas Möller) Nirgendwo prallen urbanes Lebensgefühl und ländliche Wirklichkeit so hart aufeinander wie beim Thema Landwirtschaft. Während Stadtmenschen das Ursprüngliche suchen und erschrocken auf Bilder der »Agrarindustrie« reagieren, erfahren sich Bauern als Getriebene von Verbrauchern und Weltmarkt. Die Folge ist eine zunehmende Entfremdung zwischen Stadt und Land, die weit über die Landwirtschaft hinausgeht. Dieses Buch überbrückt den kommunikativen Graben zwischen Kritikern und Kritisierten. Einem breiten Publikum erklärt es, wie Landwirte heute arbeiten, welchen Zwängen sie unterliegen und auf welche Zukunft sie zusteuern. Aber auch, wo sie Wünsche und Ängste der Bevölkerung ernst nehmen müssen als bisher. Ein Plädoyer für einen neuen Gesellschaftsvertrag mit dem Land und der Landwirtschaft jenseits von »konventionell« und »bio«. Landwirtschaft zwischen Landlust-Romantik und Massenproduktion Für einen besseren Dialog - Analysen eines Kommunikationsexperten Endlich ein nüchterner Blick auf Wirklichkeit und Zukunft im Stall und auf dem Acker Für einen neuen Gesellschaftsvertrag zwischen Bauern und Konsumenten Nein. - Eric Jarosinski 2015-09-08

In the past society had aphorisms, today we have this hilarious yet deeply profound collection of tweets from the hugely popular @NeinQuarterly. Nein. A Manifesto is the brainchild of Eric Jarosinski, the self-described "failed intellectual" behind @NeinQuarterly, a "Compendium of Utopian Negation" that uses the aphoristic potential of Twitter to plumb the existential abyss of modern life—and finds it bottomless. Stridently hopeless and charmingly dour, Nein. A Manifesto is an irreverent philosophical investigation into our most urgent questions. And the least. Inspired by the aphorisms of Nietzsche, Karl Kraus, Walter Benjamin, and Theodor W. Adorno, Jarosinski's short-form style reinvents philosophy for a world doomed to distraction. Nein. A Manifesto will be packaged as an attractive small-format hardcover, with a handful of Jarosinski's aphorisms laid out on each page. Critical thinkers, lovers of language, bibliophiles, manics and depressives alike will be drawn to this compelling, witty, and often hilarious translation of digital into print. Theory into praxis. And tragedy into farce.

Noch nie wurde so viel Fleisch gegessen wie heute und die Folgen der überbordenden Fleischproduktion für Tiere, Umwelt und Klima sind katastrophal. Alternativen werden gesucht. Der Journalist Hendrik Hassel nimmt uns mit auf eine Entdeckungsreise in die Labore und Produktionsräume, in denen heute am »neuen Fleisch« gearbeitet wird. Anschaulich und spannend erzählt er von erstaunlichen Entwicklungen in den Niederlanden, Israel, Russland, China und den USA. Ein engagiertes Buch, das die enormen Chancen der aktuellen Entwicklungen aufzeigt und gleichzeitig die Herausforderungen thematisiert.

Philosophy in the Garden - Damon Young 2020-04-07

Why did Marcel Proust have bonsai beside his bed? What was Jane Austen doing, coveting an apricot? How was Friedrich Nietzsche inspired by his 'thought tree'? In Philosophy in the Garden, Damon Young explores one of literature's most intimate relationships: authors and their gardens. For some, the garden provided a retreat from workaday labor; for others, solitude's quiet counsel. For all, it played a philosophical role: giving their ideas a new life. What unites the authors--Proust, Woolf, Colette, Rousseau, Orwell, Emily Dickinson, Kazantzakis--portrayed in Philosophy in the Garden is not any one ideal, but a devotion to the garden itself: to its philosophical fertility. Despite being bookworms and paper moths, they did some of their best thinking al fresco. (Even Jean-Paul Sartre, whose hero in Nausea was sickened by a chestnut tree.) Philosophy in the Garden reveals the profound thoughts discovered in parks, backyards, and pot-plants. It does not provide tips for mowing overgrown couch grass, or mulching a dry Japanese maple. It is a philosophical companion to the garden's labors and joys.

Creativity Between Experience and Cosmos - Maria Regina Brioschi 2020-06-29

The book investigates the topic of creativity by focusing on C.S. Peirce's and A.N. Whitehead's accounts of novelty. It is divided into three parts. The first part considers the problem of novelty from a philosophical point of view and examines the historical and theoretical connections between the two authors. The second and third parts explore, respectively, Peirce's and Whitehead's thoughts on novelty, analyzing their views from three different perspectives - phenomenological, gnoseological, and cosmological. Finally, their thoughts are compared in order to show their contributions to the issue of novelty.

Before Dinner - M. Korthals 2008-11-09

This book is an extensive, original and systematic treatment of many important philosophical and ethical aspects of food (consumption and production). May we eat just anything? Can we do everything with animals, even genetic modification? If not, how can we regulate those processes so that they lead to optimum animal welfare while at the same time producing optimum taste? The production of food also causes environmental pollution - does the fight against hunger have priority over the care of the environment? The care of the environment, animal welfare, and the quality of food should be in a certain harmony, but that is far from granted and hardly easy to achieve. These factors are often in conflict with each other, and a balance will thus need to be searched for. Other factors to take into consideration are the issue of global famine, the care for a farming class that is able to keep its head above water in a decent way, and a fair trade system that does not throw up unnecessary barriers for newcomers or small market participants and that promotes good nutrition. Famine continues to be a widespread phenomenon that violates human rights, causing nearly a billion people to suffer from hunger or malnutrition. At the same time, deliberate hunger, abundance, and obesity are prevalent in the Western world. Both issues refer to the social and cultural aspects of food. Scientific and technological developments like genetic modification and functional food also play an increasingly important role; almost every bite that we take is determined by scientific developments. An extra difficulty is that scientific information is often contradictory, or that it relies on statistical probabilities that are difficult to translate into everyday certitudes. All of these factors deserve attention, but it is the mix that is most important. In the land of food, 'either or' does not exist, only 'both and'. The adequate measure of 'both and' serves as the starting point for this philosophical reflection. Before Dinner is a must-read for all people interested in contemporary ethical issues of food, such as university students and researchers of food, agricultural and life sciences, as well as policymakers in these fields, such as members of professional organisations focusing on food and agriculture (f.e., EURSAFE (European Society for Agriculture and Food Ethics), the Agriculture, Food and Human Values Society (USA), and European Federation of Biotechnology).

Part memoir, part collective history, Katja Oskamp's love letter to the inhabitants of Marzahn is a tender reflection on life's progression and our ability to forge connections in the unlikeliest of places. Each person's story stands alone as a beautifully crafted vignette, but together they form a portrait of a community.

Food Ethics - Franz-Theo Gottwald 2010-03-10

In this first decade of the 21st century, more than 854 million people in the world are starving, while industrial nations are debating about obesity, generating energy from food plants, and a myriad of other topics many African and south Asian nations could only fathom. In this great discord, there have arisen many interdisciplinary discussions about problems in the field of applied Ethics, with regards to food, that are crossing a considerably wide spectrum of disciplines, such as: obesity, traceability, agro-food biotechnology, dairy industry, transgenic plants, novel food, bio fuels, world-trade system, etc. This book presents international discussions and information concerning food ethics in its current state. It presents a variety of important aspects in the field of food ethics with respect to positions, instruments and applications of issues surrounding nutrition. A great deal of the book will concern itself with discussing different ethical positions and problems of current interests, as explained by experts of the "food-ethics-community". The articles will focus on the reality of global food problems through two main issues: current questions of nutrition in the specific contexts of field and experience, ethical tools, ideas and suggestions concerning long-term steps for solutions. The appendix presents a collection of current declarations and political statements - visions, proposals and goals in a worth living world in general and concerning specific problems - water, healthy food, the human right to food, sustainability and food sovereignty.
