Vertical Readings in Dante's Comedy -

George Corbett 2015-09-01

Vertical Readings in Dante's Comedy is a reappraisal of the poem by an international team of thirty-four scholars. Each vertical reading analyses three same-numbered cantos from the three canticles: Inferno i, Purgatorio i and Paradiso i; Inferno ii, Purgatorio ii and Paradiso ii; etc. Although scholars have suggested before that there are correspondences between same-numbered cantos that beg to be explored, this is the first time that the approach has been pursued in a systematic fashion across the poem. This collection - to be issued in three volumes - offers an unprecedented repertoire of vertical readings for the whole poem. As the first volume exemplifies, vertical reading not only articulates unexamined connections between the three canticles but also unlocks engaging new ways to enter into core concerns of the poem. The three volumes thereby provide an indispensable resource for scholars, students and enthusiasts of Dante. The volume has its origin in a series of thirty-three public lectures held in Trinity College, the University of Cambridge (2012-2016) which can be accessed at the 'Cambridge Vertical Readings in Dante's Comedy' website.

Generating Traces in the History of the World -

Luigi Giussani 2010-09-30

Generating Traces in the History of the World is a synthesis of Monsignor Luigi Giussani's reflection on the Christian experience. His exploration of Christianity as an unforeseen and unforeseeable event in which the mystery became a man reveals how, by acknowledging this fact, an individual is simultaneously able to use reason and be moved by affection.

Discussing the ways in which Christ continues to be present in history through the companionship of those whom He joins to himself in Baptism, Giussani illuminates how a sense of Christ's mercy can overcome negativity and encourage a useful life. A profound and moving work, Generating Traces in the History of the World will interest all those who have been inspired by Giussani's thought.

The Nature and Mission of Theology -

Cardinal Joseph Ratzinger 2016-06-21

As Cardinal, Joseph Ratzinger wrote this book in response to the dialogue going on today concerning theology and the clarification of its methods, its mission and its limits which he thinks has become urgent. Ratzinger states: "To do theology-as the Magisterium understands theology-it is not sufficient merely to calculate how much religion can reasonably be expected of man and to utilize bits and pieces of the Christian tradition accordingly. Theology is born when the arbitrary judgment of reason encounters a limit, in that we discover something which we have not excogitated ourselves but which has been revealed to us. For this reason, not every religious theory has the right to label itself as Christian or Catholic theology simply because it wishes to do so; whoever would lay claim to this title is obligated to accept as meaningful the prior given which goes along with it."

Dante - John Freccero 1986

[The essays] are arranged to follow the order of the "Comedy," and they form the perfect companion for a reader of the poem. Throughout Freccero operates on the fundamental premise that there is always an intricate and crucial dialectic at work between Dante the poet and Dante the pilgrim. -- from cover.

Palliative Care in Neurology - Raymond Voltz 2004

Patients with degenerative neurological disorders are among the most handicapped patients in medicine. Many of these diseases are incurable. Expert palliative care is the duty of every neurologist: however, to date, this has not been a standard feature of neurological practice or training. This book helps define a new field, namely palliative care in neurology. It brings together all necessary information for neurologists caring for a patient with advanced disease. Palliative care is an approach to the management of patients with life-threatening illness that attempts to enhance comfort, relieve psychosocial and spiritual distress, assure respect for decision making, provide support for the family, and prepare the patient and family for the end of life. This unique book covers each of the many dimensions of palliative care as they relate to patients with advanced neurological disorders. Basic principles of palliative care and specific ethical issues (such as euthanasia, food and hydration and advance directives) are covered. The needs of populations with specific neurological disorders are described and the management of symptoms that are common to all is explored in detail. Each chapter introduces its topic using a case report which may be used directly for teaching purposes. The authors have put together an invaluable resource, which lays the foundation for further research in the field.

I grandi matematici - Eric Bell 2011-08-23
Capostipite di un nuovo genere di biografie, in cui si uniscono storie personali e informazione scientifica, questo saggio ormai divenuto un classico presenta in maniera mirabile il lato umano della matematica, e aiuta così ad avvicinare una disciplina che spesso sembra ermetica e lontana. Attraverso il racconto delle vite di grandi pensatori quali Cartesio, Fermat, Pascal, Newton, Poincaré, Eric Bell si è proposto di far rivivere ai lettori le emozioni, gli affanni e le difficoltà che si celano dietro le loro grandi conquiste scientifiche. Il risultato è un'opera affascinante e coinvolgente: un esempio ineguagliato di storiografia della scienza che ci permette di rileggere l'evoluzione di una branca fondamentale del sapere come una grande avventura culturale e umana.

The Living God and the Fullness of Life - Jürgen Moltmann 2015-11-06

Modern humanity has accepted a truncated, impoverished definition of life. Focusing solely on material realities, we have forgotten that joy, purpose, and meaning come from a life that is both immersed in the temporal and alive to the transcendent. We have, in other words, ceased to live in God. In this book, renowned theologian Jürgen Moltmann shows us what that life of joy and purpose looks like. Describing how we came to live in a world devoid of the ultimate, he charts a way back to an intimate connection with the biblical God. He counsels that we adopt a "theology of life," an orientation that sees God at work in both the mundane and the extraordinary and that pushes us to work for a world that fully reflects the life of its Creator. Moltmann offers a telling critique of the shallow values of consumerist society and provides a compelling rationale for why spiritual sensibilities and encounter with God must lie at the heart of any life that seeks to be authentically human.

The Banquet - Dante Alighieri 2016-11-16
Translated by Elizabeth Price Sayer Show
Excerpt shment unjustly; the punishment, I say, of exile and poverty! Since it was the pleasure of the citizens of the most beautiful and the most famous daughter of Rome, Florence, to cast me out from her most sweet bosom (wherein I was born and nourished even to the height of my life, and in which, with her goodwill, I desire with all my heart to repose my weary soul, and to end the time which is given to me), I have gone through almost all the land in which this language lives--a pilgrim, almost a mendicant--showing forth against my will the wound of Fortune, with which the ruined man is often unjustly reproached. Truly I have been a ship without a sail and without a rudder, borne to divers ports and lands and shores by the dry wind which blows from doleful poverty; and I have appeared vile in the eyes of many, who perhaps through some report may have imaged me in other form. In the sight of whom not only my person became vile, but each work already completed was held to be of less value than that might again be w

The Undivine Comedy - Teodolinda Barolini 1992-10-30
Accepting Dante's prophetic truth claims on their own terms, Teodolinda Barolini proposes a "detheologized" reading as a global new approach to the Divine Comedy. Not aimed at excising theological concerns from Dante, this approach instead attempts to break out of the hermeneutic guidelines that Dante structured into his poem and that have resulted in theologized readings whose outcomes have been overdetermined by the poet. By detheologizing, the reader can emerge from this poet's hall of mirrors and discover the narrative techniques that enabled Dante to forge a true fiction. Foregrounding the formal exigencies that Dante masked as ideology, Barolini moves from the problems of beginning to those of closure, focusing always on the narrative journey. Her investigation--which treats such topics as the visionary and the poet, the One and the many, narrative and time--reveals some of the transgressive paths trodden by a master of mimesis, some of the ways in which Dante's poetic adventuring is indeed, according to his own lights, Ulyssean.

La casa di Berto - Massimo Ruber 2021-10-13
Thriller ambientato nella provincia di Lecco vicino al lago di Annone, la misteriosa sparizione di due persone da una villa isolata e di cui non si trovano più le tracce. Così come era accaduto trent'anni prima, un uomo legato a quella stessa famiglia, mai più tornato in quella casa, forse sparito o ...chissà. Lì vicino, a mezzo chilometro di distanza, c'è la casa di Berto: è il rustico riprodotto nella copertina, intorno al quale ruota la vicenda. Ed è il titolo della storia raccontata da Massimo Ruber in prima persona, come avvocato tirato dentro la vicenda su incarico professionale ricevuto da una donna dagli occhi verde giada, dentro i quali lui finirà per perdersi alla ricerca della verità. Era la fine di un luglio rovente e stava per andarsene al mare di Chiavari per godersi barca e pesci che cercava sempre di catturare, finendo poi per accontentarsi di quelli già bell'e pronti in trattoria.

The Business Coach - Psicologia della comunicazione e tecniche di vendita - Vincenzo Rotondo 2019-04-05

La figura del venditore può dare molte soddisfazioni, morali ed economiche, ma per poter svolgere al meglio ciò che questo ruolo richiede bisogna essere culturalmente preparati e dimostrare di essere pienamente in possesso delle tecniche di vendita e comunicazione, fondamentali affinché una trattativa commerciale, a qualunque livello, abbia una conclusione positiva. Questo volume offre un'ampia panoramica di quelle che sono le tecniche di vendita più comuni e affermate, approfondendo i punti chiave della comunicazione e dei mezzi a disposizione del venditore, con particolare riguardo verso ciò che di nuovo il mercato mette a disposizione, a livello tecnologico e professionale.

Logic and Information - Keith Devlin 1995-09-29
Intelligence can be characterised both as the ability to absorb and process information and as the ability to reason. Humans and other animals have both of these abilities to a greater or lesser degree, but the search for artificial intelligence has been hampered by our inability to create a theory that covers both of these characteristics. In this provocative and ground-breaking book, Professor Keith Devlin argues that to obtain a deeper understanding of the nature of intelligence and knowledge acquisition, we must broaden our concept of logic. For these purposes, Devlin introduces the concept of the infon, a quantum of information, and merges it with situations, a mathematical construction generalising the notion of sets developed by Barwise and Perry at Stanford University in order to study the meaning of natural languages. He develops and describes the theory here in general and intuitive terms, and discusses its relevance to a variety of concerns such as artificial intelligence, cognition, natural language and communication.

Dante and Philosophy - Etienne Gilson 2013-04-16

The object of this work is to define Dante's attitude or, if need be, his successive attitudes towards philosophy. It is therefore a question of ascertaining the character, function and place which Dante assigned to this branch of learning among the activities of man. My purpose has not been to single out, classify and list Dante's numerous philosophical ideas, still less to look for their sources or to decide what doctrinal influences determined the evolution of his thought.

Arguing that rhetoric has always been an independent, objective, essential factor in human interaction, Valesio views it as coextensive with human speech in use.

Epidemiology and the Delivery of Health

Care Services - Denise M. Oleske 2012-12-06

In this introductory textbook to epidemiology, students will discover the knowledge and skills required for managing population-based health care under health reform. Fundamental epidemiological techniques are presented teaching students to assess the health status of populations served; determine appropriate interventions based upon knowledge of factors which affect health status; and evaluate the impact of health care systems, programs, technologies, and policies on the health status of populations. Each chapter includes case studies and discussion questions.
